More than 500 guests, vendors and volunteers attended the Ultimate Pink Party on Friday, Oct. 14, at the Ross Ade Pavilions in West Lafayette. The annual party is a fun-filled night for women to gather with friends and family to raise funds for the YWCA Women's Cancer Program. The evening included a dinner, spa service, entrance to the vendor room, door prizes, health screenings provided by the Kathryn Weil Center for Education and Spirit of Women, demonstrations, entertainment, dessert extravaganza and silent auction. More than 60 vendors participated in this year's Pink Party, which also included a costume party and recognition of breast cancer survivors. The 2012 Ultimate Pink Party is set for October 19.
